Description

Join us as we wake up our bodies each week with active movement and play.

Toddlers and preschoolers with special needs, their siblings and parent/caregiver can enjoy an interactive virtual movement opportunity to gain ideas to enhance physical activity and movement play in your home.

This virtual program will use simple at-home items to promote physical activity. Together we will move, stretch, catch, roll and so much more.

Each week we will explore new skills, movement activities and provide a chance to connect through turn taking, conversation and so much more.
