Connect and communicate with your child through play! In this group, an Instructor Therapist will support you to increase your child's communication skills. Your child will learn how to make more eye contact, and ask for things, like "my turn" or "more". Your child will share experiences with you, and learn to play with a variety of toys and take turns.

Therapists work one-on-one with you and your child to develop communication, play, and cooperation skills!

Your child will receive an individual treatment plan that will identify his/her goals for the group as well as the strategies that therapists will use to help achieve those goals. Your child's progress will be tracked and you will receive a progress report at the end of the group. This group is supervised by a Behaviour Clinician who is a Board Certified Behavior Analyst®.
